To Whom It May Concern,

Rabbi Zippel with Project HEART, has been blessing the lives of young people and their families for decades. Not only are those who are Jewish touched by his stories, counsel, and compassion, but staff members of all denominations—or no denomination are inspired by his wisdom.

Whether it is the youth in residential care who is struggling with being homesick, substance abuse, trauma, anger, mental health issues, or the questioning of their faith, Rabbi Zippel listens. Rabbi Zippel cares. Rabbi Zippel brings with him goodwill which translates to these special young men and young women, as “hope.” Rabbi Zippel brings hope.

The non-judgmental, all accepting approach of Rabbi Zippel and Project HEART has helped many with reconciliation—the reconciling of families, faith and self. Project HEART blesses lives.

Sincerely,

Tami Harris

Spiritual Care Director
